

Parking for DIY Days, Oct. 28th @ the Young Research Library, UCLA

If you arrive on Oct. 28th between 8 AM and 10AM, parking attendants will staff the entrance to Structure 3 marked on the map at right. Take Sunset to Hilgard, turn south, and take a quick right.

If you arrive before 8AM or after 10AM, or are coming to campus on a different day, you'll need to go to any parking kiosk to get a permit, and the closest is the underground kiosk in Structure 4 (marked with an i), at Sunset and Westwood Plaza. You will then be directed to an available lot.

A Day Permit costs $11. Please note that Day Permit holders may not park in green spaces, or spaces marked for blue permit or x-permit holders.

Self-Service Parking Pay Stations

For short term visits (under 2 hours) self-service parking is more affordable. Structures 5 and 3 have self-service pay stations for visitor parking. These spaces are painted green. In Structure 5, they are on the rooftop level, the first entrance off Royce. In Structure 3, enter at the marked arrow. Rates are by the hour, credit cards are accepted, and the spots are very limited.

Charles E. Young Research Library

The library is marked in green on the map above. From Structure 3, walk south past (or through) the Broad Art Center and the sculpture garden. The library will be on your right.

DIY Days registration tables will be just outside the front door.
